Matt is an attorney who practices in the areas of business and commercial litigation, personal injury, and franchise litigation. He is experienced in all stages of litigation. Matt has represented a diverse group of clients, ranging from individuals to large international corporations. He has represented financial institutions, small businesses, manufacturers, and property management companies. His experience ranges several subject matters including business torts, personal injury, employment matters, intellectual property, and constitutional law.

Matt graduated from the Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law at Arizona State University, where he served on the Executive Board of the Arizona State Law Journal. He also won multiple awards for legal writing and oral advocacy. During law school, he worked at one of the largest law firms in the Southwest and with in-house counsel at two of the biggest companies in Arizona. Matt's extensive background working in-house at multiple corporations as well as multiple law firms of various size has shaped his view that no two clients are the same, but every client must receive the same thing: the best quality and the best service.

When Matt is not working, he enjoys spending time with his wife and kids. He also plays pickleball, golf, and enjoys historical non-fiction in his spare time.
